Thanks

Thanks to all who attended our Mandarin Advent Retreat last Saturday. The theme of the day was HOPE. Fr. Dennis Callan, SVD, was scheduled to lead our retreat, but unfortunately, he fell down that morning and had to be taken to emergency. Since then, he has had more tests, he will need surgery for his right shoulder. Please keep Fr. Dennis in your prayers. I filled in leading the retreat. Thank God for God's guidance!

Thanks to Heba Jaqman, Katherina Atmadja, Rena and Mike Hui for leading our Youth gathering last Saturday. It was a good turnout, fun and fruitful gathering. There were lively discussions on receiving Jesus into our hearts and on many favored biblical passages, and a friendly basketball competition game. Even though Ms. Jaqman's team beat my team and they were happy to receive the medals. We all had fun and looking forward to the next gathering.

Thanks to all who helped celebrate the Feast of St. Barbara last Sunday. Our school and Religious Education students did a wonderful job in a tribute to St. Barbara with rose processions. Our parents and volunteers did a great job with Breakfast with Santa after Mass. Special thanks to Armando Flores for donating the eggs again, and to all who cooked, served and helped with preparation and clean up. Thanks also to Alderwoman Nicole Lee for taking time to greet our community and help with the cooking.

Living Nativity

This year we moved our Living Nativity from Saturday afternoon to Sunday after the 9:30am Mass. Due to the predicted chilly weather, we will only have live animals and the fire outside, and the rest of the activities will take place in the Lower Hall. I invite you and encourage you to join us for this precious opportunity to experience the mystery of God coming into our World and lives. We will have readings, songs and music. We also added simple, but delicious food if you choose to eat lunch with us. You will have time to visit and encounter baby Jesus, the Holy Family and the Three Wise Kings. It will be a fantastic way to spiritually prepare you and your family in this Advent for the coming celebration of the Lord's birthday.

Peace, Fr. Francis

LEAVING OUR ADVENT HIDING PLACE

By Fr. John Cuff

Every year on the third Sunday of Advent, the Church makes an exception to the Advent theme of repentance; the rose-colored candle we lit this morning symbolizes joy. So since today is Joyful Sunday, here's a little story to cheer things up:

A school principal called the house of one of his teachers to find out why he was not in school. He was greeted by a small child who whispered: "Hello?"

"Is your Daddy home?" asked the principal. "Yes," answered the whispering child.

"May I talk with him?" the man asked. "No," replied the small voice.

"Is your Mommy there?" he asked. "Yes," came the answer.

"May I talk with her?" Again the small voice whispered, "No."

"All right," said the man, "Is there any one there besides you?"

"Yes," whispered the child, "A policeman."

"A policeman? May I please speak with the policeman?" "No, he's busy," whispered the child. "Busy doing what?" asked the principal. "Talking to Daddy and Mommy and the fireman," came the child's answer.

"The fireman? Has there been a fire in the house or something?" asked the worried man.

"No," whispered the child.

"Then what are the police and fireman doing there?"

Still whispering, the young voice replied with a soft giggle,

"They're all looking for me."

It's going to be pretty hard for the "rescuers" to find this child as long as the child keeps hiding from them; it's also hard for God to find us if we keep trying to hide from him during this Advent.

In today's Gospel we see John the Baptist in the desert calling out to the people of Judea to come out into the open desert and let God find them. We can say that John is like the fireman calling out to the "lost" child. The child has to leave his hiding place and come out into the open in order for the fireman to find him. To go into the desert is to leave behind the normal supports of life which we usually depend on. God cannot do much with us as long as we let these things get in the way of returning to Him. When the heart is full, nothing else can come into it, not even God. So this Advent we first need to let go of what is cluttering our hearts before we can embrace God. This letting go is symbolized by a journey into the wilderness to answer John's call to repent and to encounter God in the desert. That's why we can rejoice today on Joyful Sunday. Something new has happened in God's plan of salvation: Jesus is coming in a different way than even John expected; He's first bringing salvation rather than judgment; He's bringing God's Kingdom. Even today John continues to call to us; he needs our co-operation to make God's Kingdom present in this world. When we respond to John's call, we show that we truly understand Joyful Sunday. Will you enter the desert this Advent?

ST. THERESE SCHOOL NEWS

Thank You for a Wonderful Breakfast with Santa!

Thank you to everyone who supported our Breakfast with Santa event! We are especially grateful to our generous donors, Keeley Food Services Inc. and Armando Flores, for providing the eggs that made our breakfast possible.

A heartfelt thank-you also goes out to our School and Family Association for planning the event, to all of our dedicated volunteers, and to Winson Tan Photography for capturing such wonderful memories. And of course, we couldn't have done it without our very own Santa!

Your time, effort, and generosity made this event a joyful success for our entire school and parish community.
