Congratulations and Thanks

Congratulations to Cliff Whitehouse and Katarzyna Mordel who celebrated their Holy Matrimony on Sat., Sept. 18th at St. Barbara Church. We rejoice with them and send our best wishes and prayers to them as they begin their married life.

Thanks to George Vanderford and to his helpers, Cliff Whitehouse, Christine Vanderford, Joan Balasa and Henry Diaz Deleon for a successful Clothing Drive last weekend. George shared, "The St. Vincent DePaul Clothing Drive was very successful. We had parishioners from both Worship Sites and I have not seen the trailer filled to capacity for a long time."

Thanks to Teresa Moy, Gemma Wong and Emma Reyes for taking on the responsibility as Coordinators of Hospitality at St. Therese Worship Site.

Thanks to all who pray the Monday Rosary with us and delivered over 280 post cards to the neighbors in Bridgeport. The Sisters of the Missionaries of Charity are so committed to pray in our neighborhoods. October is the month for Holy Rosary and I hope more of our parishioners will join us for this meaningful devotion.

St. Therese, Teach Us to be Missionary Disciples

We begin this month with the Feast of St. Therese of the Child Jesus, patron of the universal Church's mission, and of our St. Therese Worship Site. Many of us throughout our world have devotion to St. Therese. She is one of the most beloved Saints in our Church. Definitely she is special to our family community. She is revered in both of our wonderful Churches. At St. Barbara, we have a beautiful shrine in honor of her and at St. Therese, we have a beautiful statue of her.

On this Sunday we celebrate St. Therese with Bishop Robert Lombardo. We pray that through her intercessions, our faith community will be more empowered to carry on the Mission of Jesus Christ in Chinatown and Bridgeport. I hope the following words from St. Therese can help us in our journey towards holiness.

Our Lord's love shines out just as much through a little soul who yields completely to His Grace as it does through the greatest.

Jesus has chosen to show me the only way which leads to the Divine Furnace of love; it is the way of childlike self-surrender, the way of a child who sleeps, afraid of nothing, in its father's arms.

I implore You, cast Your eyes upon a multitude of little souls; choose from this world, I beg of You, a legion of little victims worthy of Your love.

A soul in a state of grace has nothing to fear of demons who are cowards.

Jesus, help me to simplify my life by learning what you want me to be and becoming that person.

St. Therese, St. Barbara, and St. Mother Teresa, pray for us!

Peace, Fr. Francis

FAITHFUL PROMISES by Sister Caritas

As children, we make promises to our friends, "I will play with you. You can share my toys. You can tell the Book of Genesis. It tells of the creation of woman whom God takes to Adam to be me your secret. I promise, I will not tell anyone." We make promises throughout our lives. Some are serious. Some are not so serious. They all involve some element of trust.

Our first reading today comes from the Book of Genesis. It tells the story of the creation of woman. God presents her to man who accepts her. "This is why a man leaves his father and mother and clings to his wife and the two of them become one flesh. This is the same of the underlying basis on which the Church builds the sacrament of marriage.

Please continue to recruit and pray for IN-PERSON ALPHAS.

The Gospel today, we hear the teaching of Jesus about divorce. Basic marriage is the promise or vow that husband and wife make to each other out of love. "A man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife and the two shall be one flesh." The marriage vow is a lifelong commitment, promise.

"Therefore, what God has joined together, no human being can separate." God calls us to keep our promise.

WHAT GOD HAS JOINED TOGETHER- Fr. John Cuff

The Pharisees who “tested” Jesus by asking if it was lawful for a man to divorce his wife already knew the answer. They never really had any doubts about the dissolubility of marriage. Mosaic Law allowed divorce and remarriage: “If a man takes a wife, and after they are married she is displeasing to him because of something objectionable in her, let him give her a statement in writing and send her away from his house. And when she has gone away from him, she may become another man’s wife.”

Their only disagreement was the meaning of this “something objectionable” that a husband would find in his wife to justify divorce. The conservative school of Rabbi Shammai said it meant only a case of scandal, like adultery. The liberal school of Rabbi Hillel said it meant any case of annoyance, “even if she has burned his supper.” The even more liberal school of Rabbi Akiba said the woman didn’t have to be guilty of anything; that the man simply no longer fancied her was reason enough for divorce. So the question was a trap, since if Jesus favored one school of thought, he would alienate the others.

In reply Jesus went above Mosaic law to God’s plan of creation, saying that from the beginning, God (in the book of Genesis) had ordained husband and wife to live in unity: “What God has joined together, let no one separate.” So Jesus here was not interested in laying down legal regulations but moral principles. On the question of divorce, He said that God intended for husband and wife never to separate, period. With this ideal in mind, He implied that Moses’ provision that a man may divorce his wife by giving her a letter of divorce was not permission to divorce, but rather Moses’ way of making allowance for people’s “hardness of heart,” implying that Moses knew the divine ideal for husband and wife but still didn’t enforce it, due the stubbornness of his people. In fact, the provision to divorce her with a letter was not to facilitate separation of husband and wife, but to protect the unity of marriage. The “triple express” divorce, current among their Semitic neighbors, whereby a husband could orally repudiate his wife by simply saying three times in the presence of witnesses “I divorce you,” might even be done in a fit of anger. But the stipulation requiring a letter of divorce could delay matters for months. This gave the husband time to sleep on it (like Joseph, who had originally decided to divorce Mary), and friends and family to mediate, probably saving many marriages from a hasty divorce.

Thus the Pharisees focused on the law and overlooked the ideal. So do we. A thorn in the side in our own times still is frequent divorce and remarriage due to “hardness of hearts.” Let us pray the Holy Spirit enlighten us to present the ideals of the Gospel, in ways that will be seen as practical and realistic to people of today.
