Celebrating over a Century of Faith and Education

St. Barbara Parish is a Roman Catholic community celebrating a century of faith in the Bridgeport area. Our faith community welcomes all people, helping them grow spiritually through liturgy, prayer, and education, and socially through activities for all ages. Our school takes great pride in fostering these values in our children. We give witness to our faith by sharing with each other our God-given gifts and talents. We nourish and sustain our faith as a family by celebrating the sacraments and the presence of the risen Lord among us in the Eucharist.

FR. LUKAS OUDA OUR NEW ASSOCIATE PASTOR

Fr. Lukas was born in Kenya 41 years ago, He came to the United States ten years ago and joined Loyola University in 2010. One year later, he went to Mundelein Seminary for four years and was ordained in 2015. His first assignment was at our neighboring parish, Blessed Sacrament parish Chicago as associate pastor for two years, and another two years as chaplain at the University of Chicago medicine and associate pastor at St. Stanislaus Bishop and Marty Posen IL.

Fr. Lukas is the third born of a big family of ten — four sisters and five brothers. As Fr. Lukas says, "I presume because of that, I am a people person who loves Christ and His church. I am looking forward to sharing that love of Christ with the parishioners of St. Barbara and St. Therese.

May God bless you all. Amen."

Please stop and introduce yourselves to Fr. Lukas. He is a very friendly person and, as we have discovered, a great lover of riding bicycles. Below is a picture of Fr. Lukas and Tom Howard, DRE of St. Therese Church, taken atop Henry Palmisano Park with St. Barbara Church in the background.

HOLY COMMUNION

If you find it difficult to walk to the front of the Church to receive Holy Communion, please notify one of the ushers before Mass that you would like a priest to bring Communion to you.

DIVINE MERCY CHAPLET

The Divine Mercy Chaplet is said after the 9:30 am Sunday Mass. If you attend the 9:30 am Mass and decide not to stay for the chaplet, please exit church quietly. Thank you.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Who is My Neighbor?

I have had the humble privilege and honor to be selected as a Diocesan Ambassador to a program run by DePaul University and the Vincentians, who are have hosted a group of Chinese priests for a collaborative leadership training in the last few years as well as this summer at the Lincoln Park campus. One of the major goals of the program is to help the priests to better know the Catholic Church in America. During their visit, these Priests have a rigorous schedule of morning classes coupled with cultural exchange opportunities in the afternoons and on weekends. Some of these exchanges include visits to various Churches and institutions in the Chicago area where they can serve the poor and experience the unique diversity of our communities through interactions with the priests and laities. They have had many opportunities to learn and experience the life of the Church here. In their reflections and sharing, one of the things they have been really impressed with is the hospitality of the people they have encountered in Chicago. They shared on many occasions how friendly and helpful people are. Their encounters with local people empowered them to have positive and meaningful experiences and impressions, which will serve them as they go back to their parishes to better minister God's people. We good and compassionate people are their neighbors. I invite everyone to extend our SS. Barbara and Therese Parish hospitality to them as they join us at the Parish Picnic this Sunday.

Who is my neighbor? The concept of neighbor is not defined by territories and space in today's Gospel story. They not only can be our next door neighbor or a fellow parishioner, but this also includes people across the globe from us. Jesus challenges us to expand our understanding of neighbor, inclusion and diversity. Our neighbors are the people who treat others always with mercy, compassion, respect and love. We might be living next to each other but, if we are not welcoming, caring, don't show respect to one another and if we are not willing to practice mercy, can we in good conscience call ourselves Christians? The Good Samaritan in the story cared for the victim of the robber and therefore they are neighbors in Christ.

I experienced care and kindness from all the good people at the St. Barbara Worship Site last weekend. I heartily thank you who welcomed me with open arms and warm smiles. I know change is difficult, and we are going through many physical, emotional, and spiritual changes that can challenge our faith. We are not strangers, but people of God who are called to love our God and our neighbors with all of our hearts, our minds, and our strength. I am truly grateful to all of you for your hospitality and your faith and love. It is by our love that they know we are Christians. As we journey forward, I encourage you to continue to show the strength and the beauty of your relationship with Christ through neighborly hospitality to all you meet.

Christian hospitality has a deep root in our history and Bible. This reminds me of the classical story of Abraham welcoming three strangers. Little did he know he was encountering the Trinity. In offering food and drinks to strangers, Abraham and Sarah encountered God in a profound way and they were blessed with a child in their old age. What can we learn from this story? How can this powerful story help us to treat our brothers and sisters in our community and neighborhood and beyond?

1 John reminds us that, if we say that we love our God and don't care for our brothers and sisters, we are lying. Our love for God needs to be lived out in our discipleship. "Beloved, let us love one another, because love is of God; everyone who loves is begotten by God and knows God....If anyone says, "I love God," but hates his brother, he is a liar; for whoever does not love a brother whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen" (1 John 4: 7&20).

We know the Golden Rule in life, but we all need reminders to help us to change and to treat one another as we would want others to treat us. In loving our neighbors, we honor and love our God. Let's not be afraid to practice hospitality, mercy, respect and love; for by encountering others in this way, we encounter our God like Abraham did, and in the way that we are commanded to "Love Your Neighbor as Thyself".

Peace.

Fr. Francis

"GOOD SAMARITAN" SUNDAY by Sister Caritas

Everyday, when we are driving on Chicago streets and expressways, we encounter homeless people standing at corners and intersections begging for money. Sometimes, especially downtown, they are on corners or sitting against buildings at busy places. If you took a video of the responses of the people passing by or driving by, it would be very interesting. Maybe the same types of people as are described in the Gospel would be found on the video. The priest of their day (one who had the role by heredity...like father like son...) was bound by the law to remain pure and undefiled in order to be able to offer worship for the people and thus gain God's continued blessing. Perhaps the person in the video would be the one who has no way of helping the person hurt and knows it but is on his way to do an important job. The Levite in the time of Jesus was also involved in duties in the temple, perhaps even helping with sacrifices at that time. He too held a role inherited. He was a member of the ancient Tribe of Levi. No law bound him as it did the priest. Like many people today, for their own reasons, they passed by the wounded hurt man.

In our world today, many people are hurt, wounded, "beaten up", homeless, country-less, "family-less", maybe even left by the roadside to die. In our local areas, even in our churches, there are many people who feel "church-less", struggling with change and difference. "Things won't be the same." One of the consistent things is life is change. What do you do when you meet someone who is hurt? Are you like the Samaritan, who stops and pours oil and wine on the wounds to clean them, takes him on his donkey and pays for his housing and needs? If you can't do all of that, what will you do?

Will you listen with compassion and not judge them? Will you welcome the stranger and give them comfort and welcome and make them feel as if they have found a new home, a new family?

Will you give of yourself, giving talent, time and care? Use your knowledge and experience, or the things you have learned along the way that are helpful? Will you bind up the wounds of the hurt by your patience and care? The Samaritan in the story knew what it was to be "neighbor, brother, sister, family, people of God". Jesus asked the lawyer, "Who was neighbor to the man left along the road?" Knowing the law, the lawyer of course answered correctly. Jesus said, "Go and do likewise." What about us? Will we do likewise? What about you and me? Can we "Go and Do Likewise?"

"New Relationships" by Tom Howard

In a previous article, Tom Howard invited people to take a stroll through Palmisano (Henry) Park. When you do, I hope you notice how the St. Barbara worship site dominates the horizon. I invited people to look up, in order to see, think and wonder about what needs those who frequent this park might have.

This week's picture was taken from the opposite angle, looking down upon the park from the horizon. From this 'horizon' perspective, one sees both nature and culture flourishing. This amazing public space is filled with a wide variety of diverse ecosystems. From dusk to dawn, Palmisano Park teems with life. It is truly amazing how this small space can simultaneously sustain so much life. I sincerely believe this vibrant public space can serve as a safe place for our parish members to creatively exercise missionary discipleship for years to come.

But how exactly should one exercise one's missionary discipleship in Palmisano Park...or, for that matter, anywhere else in our community? The more I think about this question the more I realize that evangelization is not so much about drawing people from the park up into our Church, but rather it has to do with something much simpler. I believe that missionary disciples from our parish are being called to begin conversations with those who do not go to Church. After introductions, one might ask, "What do people your age truly care about these days?"

The parable of the Good Samaritan found in today's Gospel shows how this is done. The Good Samaritan cared for someone who had been robbed of his dignity, left on the wayside, forgotten and abandoned. "What happened to you and where do you hurt the most?"

The priest and Levite, on the other hand, had different concerns - like filling up the pews - and thus hurried past the victim, circumventing the demand of their faith to love God and their neighbor. As a result, they missed a huge opportunity to build a relationship founded on mercy and compassion.

We, as followers of Christ, are called to be like the Good Samaritan and reach out to our neighbors in need. The pastoral team would love to hear any ideas you have on how to do this; please share any of these ideas with me @ thoward@sttheresechicago.org.
